

About the Position:

Perkins Center for the Arts, located in Moorestown and Collingswood, New Jersey, has an opening in our Conservatory of Music for a Piano, Violin, Cello, Guitar and Voice Instructor on Fridays, Saturdays, and a possible weekday.

This is an independent contractor position and instructors shall not be employees of Perkins Center.

Requirements:

- Minimum Bachelor of Music in Performance, Pedagogy or Music Education.
- Demonstrated experience working with children.
- Commitment through the academic year and a flexible summer schedule.
- Willingness to participate in student recitals, workshops, and adjudications.
- Excellent communication skills, punctuality, and reliable transportation.
- Ability to pass a routine background check.

What we offer:

- Flexible hours and schedule.
- Supportive administrative team and staff.
- Paid opportunity to perform at events such as Art Receptions, Coffee & Classics, House Concerts, Lawn Concerts, etc.

Compensation starts at $30/hour.

Interested candidates should submit a resume and cover letter to Tina Schofield at tschofield@perkinscenter.org. Please include "Application for [insert instrument] Instructor" in the subject line.

About Perkins Center for the Arts

Perkins Center for the Arts is a regional, community cultural asset that enriches lives, inspires life-long learning, and offers interdisciplinary and intercultural experiences through the arts. Established as an arts education institution, Perkins is dedicated to providing exemplary arts experiences for all community members within the Perkins' programs include comprehensive musical instruction through the Perkins Conservatory of Music; year-round visual & performing arts instruction; 18-20 exhibitions annually; free public concerts and ticketed concert series'; artist-led in-school residency programs; Summer Arts Camp; Perkins Folklife Center; and community enrichment projects throughout South Jersey.